CAST VISES TARGET PROFESSIONAL USERS

Brampton, ON, April 2006 — Cast vises from Gray Hand Tool Sales Inc. firmly and safely hold almost any object in place while it is being worked on. Specifically designed for the professional user, this new line of classic and robust units includes a complete range of sizes from 4" to 8" jaw width (4.75 to 9" jaw opening) and 2.75 to 4" jaw depth.

To maximize durability and service life, Gray Mechanics' Vises are made from high quality SAE 1010 material castings free of impurities that cause failure under load. Heavy-duty replaceable serrated jaws made of hardened steel, solid one-piece sliding unit that provides superior resistance to breakage under load, precision nut and screw for powerful and secure clamping, and large removable handle. They can be mounted as fixed base units using three bolts or converted to 360° manoeuvrability by adding the optional swivel base.

Fibre grip jaws are also available as an optional accessory. Made from a robust blend of fibre & nylon they are ideal for holding soft or delicate materials such as wood, plastics, & soft metals. Available in 4", 4½", 5", 6", and 8" widths the protective jaws can be utilized with any Gray Tool vise or alternatively existing brand.

Gray Tool cast vises and accessories, are sold by industrial tool distributors across North America. A complete list is available on the company's Web site (www.graytools.com).
